In view of the fact that a great number of contestants do not seem to understand the use of the nomination blanks, the Campaign Manager desires to make the following announcement. The nomination blank can be used as many times as the patrons of the Daily Bulletin-Public Ledger care to do so, but only one nomination coupon of 20,000 votes will be credited to each candidate. The votes that appear in both papers are not transferable, but a candidate can secure the number and vote them so that they are received in Campaign Headquarters not later than the expiration date.

An announced in Saturday's issue of the Daily Bulletin-Public Ledger, contestants who desire to have their score show an increase would do well to vote their ballots not later than each Monday and Thursday during the contest. The Daily Bulletin and Public Ledger will print the standings of the candidates each Tuesday and Friday during the contest. All votes received up until noon on Monday and Thursday will appear in Tuesday's and Friday's issue of the Public Ledger.

SECURING SUBSCRIPTIONS.
Candidates in either district are in no way restricted from securing subscribers in any locality that they may wish. For instance, a candidate in District No. 1 may secure subscribers in District No. 2, or candidates in District No. 2 may secure subscribers in District No. 1; in fact, candidates may secure subscribers wherever they can get them.

VOTES.
The popular free voting contest being conducted by the Daily Bulletin-Public Ledger is the greatest proposition of a like nature ever before opened to the people of northeastern Kentucky, and we reserve the right to offer more prizes in the different districts if we so desire. It is not alone in the scope of territory over which the voting extends, but in the splendor and magnificence of the prizes that are to be given to the popular ladies selected by the votes of the Daily

Bulletin-Public Ledger. By means of votes cast before September 11, 1915, thousands of dollars' worth of valuable prizes will be distributed. These prizes consist of two five-passenger automobiles, two $100 Victrolas, two $50 diamond rings and $200 in gold.

All the prizes that are offered will be awarded to the young ladies designated by the free votes of the Daily Bulletin-Public Ledger patrons. By free votes is meant that every payment upon subscriptions made either by new or old subscribers entitles them to votes. These votes are to be cast in accordance with the voting schedule in favor of some candidates selected by the patrons.

The fact that there is no additional expense attached to the vote makes it an honor and a pleasure for enterprising candidates to solicit for votes among their friends, acquaintances and fellow townsmen. There is no reason for hesitancy or apprehension and asking the support of people known to the candidate under the favorable conditions governing the Daily Bulletin-Public Ledger contest, and the prizes will be awarded to the ladies who have the largest number of these free votes at the close of the contest.

HUSTLE IS THE WORD.
Some of the candidates have already mapped out their campaign and are writing letters to their friends and supporters and are telephoning to others. The aggressive ones are organizing their friends, who are using their influence and efforts in securing votes for the candidates selected in the different communities. The sooner an active campaign is commenced the greater the chance to win a prize, and there is not a single prize in the attractive list that is not worthy of the utmost endeavor.

MANY LETTERS RECEIVED.
Hundreds of letters are being received by the Contest Manager from people who are asking for information as to nominees, and from candidates who desire knowledge of facts relating to the contest. All these letters are promptly answered and in all cases the desired advice is given. If there is anything you wish to know about the contest, do not be backward about writing, for it will be a pleasure to the Contest Manager to give you any information possible.

In the contest such as the Daily Bulletin and Public Ledger are conducting, enthusiasm, energy and determination are the points that help popularity and prove a prominent part in the success of every candidate. Time for action is at hand and the opportunity to win a magnificent prize was never better in the history of northeastern Kentucky and surrounding territory.

Votes for payments on subscriptions from subscribers or those who become subscribers can be obtained by making the payment to either the Daily Bulletin or Public Ledger, or better still, to the Campaign Office. If you desire and will send a remittance to the Contest Manager, he will cast the number of votes you are entitled to in favor of your favorite candidate, or will send her the votes. If there is no candidate already entered in the list whom you desire to favor with your patronage, you can nominate a candidate or enter the contest yourself. Every candidate thus nominated is supplied with the necessary printed matter and blanks, etc., with which to conduct a campaign in the community in which the party may live or elsewhere.

As soon as the young woman aspirant makes her candidacy known to people of this class as well as her personal friends, they will begin to save her coupons from the Daily Bulletin-Public Ledger and send their subscriptions for a few months or a year and get the votes. A new subscriber to either the Daily Bulletin or Public Ledger, by carrier or mail, gives 15,000 votes. It requires a very few of these at the close of the contest to place any candidate in a most advantageous position.

Make up your mind right now that you are going to be one of the fortunate ones, and strive to attain that end. You can do it if you try. Do not wait until the last moment to begin now. You will never regret the time and effort spent in the contest.

At present the candidates are just beginning to get their start and feeling the pulse of their friends, to get their strength.

A number of subscriptions have already come in. Candidates and nomination blanks clipped from the Daily Bulletin-Public Ledger are received daily in large numbers, and many votes which are issued on subscriptions are sent out to be held in reserve and drawn on later when an absolute necessity arises.

Any woman who desires to enter her name may write to the Contest Manager and she will at once be placed on the free subscription list to receive the paper at her home. REMEMBER, THAT ANYONE, ANYWHERE, CAN VOTE FOR A CANDIDATE. AND CANDIDATES CAN SECURE VOTES AND SUBSCRIPTIONS ANYWHERE. IT IS EASIER TO ASK QUESTIONS THAN TO CORRECT MISTAKES. DO NOT HESITATE TO ASK QUESTIONS IF THERE IS ANYTHING YOU DO NOT UNDERSTAND.

Our best advice to all is to read the contest news in each issue of the Daily Bulletin-Public Ledger. You have everything to gain and nothing to lose. The Contest Manager and assistants are engaged in this undertaking with the determination that this will be one of the most successful contests ever undertaken in this section of Kentucky. With this object in view they are more than ready to co-operate with all the candidates and their friends in the pleasant work of securing votes and subscriptions.

TO DECIDE BY BALLOT.
The decision as to who will win the automobiles and other prizes rest with the Daily Bulletin-Public Ledger readers. There will be a method of voting by coupons and by ballot, as explained in another part of the paper. During the early part of the contest a coupon will be printed which, when filled out and sent to the Contest Manager will count 200 votes. Votes are also given on new and to old subscribers paying or prepaying their subscriptions according to the schedule or votes as printed elsewhere. All votes are absolutely free and persons may vote as many times and as often as they wish and for whoever they wish.

MAGNITUDE OF CONTEST.
The contest, by this distribution of such a great number of prizes and the value attached thereto, promises one of statewide interest. Thousands of people will watch closely the standing of the various candidates, and for that reason the standing of the candidates and the number of votes to their credit will be published twice a week. All will then know just where each one stands and can work accordingly.

WRITE FOR INFORMATION.
If you do not fully understand the proposition or if there is any information you desire about the details write to, or call on the contest manager. He will take pleasure in giving you the data you desire, and if you will file the nomination of yourself or some friend he will send the candidate the necessary blanks and forms with which to conduct the canvass for free votes.

UNPAID SUBSCRIPTIONS COUNT.
All subscribers to the Daily Bulletin-Public Ledger who are in arrears on their subscription account and who settle same, are entitled to votes according to amount paid. When you pay your subscriptions be sure you receive the votes to which you are entitled.

HOW VOTES ARE SECURED.
Votes are secured by subscribing to the Daily Bulletin-Public Ledger. The ballots secured by subscribing to the Daily Bulletin-Public Ledger may be held as long as desired and voted at any time up to the close of the contest, but coupons cut from the Daily Bulletin and Public Ledger are only good for seven days from publication and will not be counted if voted after the date printed on the ballot.

their own particular district, but may vote for anybody in the race.

This offer affords the young women of Maysville and outside districts an excellent opportunity to receive valuable presents.

HOW TO WIN.

Any young lady who desires to enter this contest and win one of the magnificent prizes offered should see that her name is sent to the contest department.

Candidates should at once interest their friends in the contest, and by united and energetic action induce as many people as possible to vote for them. Each nomination coupon will count 20,000 votes for a candidate.

The nomination coupons will only appear for a few days and only a limited number of nominations will be accepted. Cut the nomination blank from this issue and send it to the contest manager with your name or the name and address of your favorite candidate. A subscription is not necessary, but a good start means much. The name of the person making the nomination will not be divulged, if so requested.

Orders for the prizes will be given the successful contestants at the close of the contest; same may be used by the contestant herself or disposed of in any manner she may see fit.

Any lady residing in the territory hereafter mentioned is eligible to compete in this contest.

Any one who desires to vote in this contest may do so by coupons and nomination blanks clipped from the Daily Bulletin-Public Ledger and by special vote ballots obtained by subscribing to the Daily Bulletin or Public Ledger.

OPEN EVENINGS.

For the benefit of those who are able to get to this office during business hours, the contest department will be open every evening until 9 p. m.

CHINESE EGGS STILL COME

Washington—(Special correspondence)—That the Pacific Coast continues to be flooded with all sorts and conditions of Chinese eggs is shown by the report of vice-consul Barrett of Shanghai to the department of commerce, recently. The total egg shipments from Shanghai alone, during the fiscal year 1914 was 3,600,000 dozen, which were landed on our western seaboard, and yet the exports from China of hen-fruits were considerably curtailed by the withdrawal of many merchant vessels from service due to the war in Europe. The majority of the shipments are made via the northern route to Seattle, as this obviates the necessity of refrigeration during the colder months.

Mr. Barrett says the so-called egg or chicken farm does not exist in China on an extensive scale. Egg raising is an incidental matter just now. The chickens are fed principally on rice, and the daily wage of a Chinese farmhand is 10 cents. The Chinese farmer sells his eggs at $4.60 a thousand and the cost of crating, packing, insurance and freight, are borne by the exporter.

Mr. Barrett makes this significant statement in his report: "It is only since the new tariff of 1913 became effective that the shipments to the United States have reached noticeable proportions."

THE CHARM OF MOTHERHOOD

Enhanced By Perfect Physical Health.

The experience of Motherhood is a trying one to most women and marks distinctly an epoch in their lives. Not one woman in a hundred is prepared or understands how to properly care for herself. Of course nearly every woman nowadays has medical treatment at such times, but many approach the experience with an organism unfitted for the trial of strength, and when it is over her system has received a shock from which it is hard to recover. Following right upon this comes the nervous strain of caring for the child, and a distinct change in the mother results.

There is nothing more charming than a happy and healthy mother of children, and indeed child-birth under the right conditions need be no hazard to health or beauty. The undesirable thing is that, with all the evidence of shattered nerves and broken health resulting from an unprepared condition, and with ample time in which to prepare, women will persist in going blindly to the trial.

Every woman at this time should rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism.

In many homes once childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

A man can stand other intimate personal disclosures with a good deal of non-chalance, but the sight of a woman's bare feet always shocks him.

THE COMMUNITY ORGANIZED

For Neighborhood Patriotism—Outline of a Method for Securing Community Co-operation in Business and Social Affairs

Washington, D. C.—A scheme for the organization of rural communities for both business and social purposes is worked out in an article which is to appear in the forthcoming Yearbook of the Department of Agriculture, and which has already been printed as a pamphlet for the use of the Department's Office of Markets and Rural Organization.

The scheme calls for ten committees, five of which are to deal with business needs, and five with social needs. Every member of the organization is to serve on some one of these committees. In addition, there is to be a central or executive committee composed of the President of the organization, its Secretary, its Treasurer, and the Chairman of the ten other committees. This central body is to direct the general policy of the organization, raise all funds and control their expenditures. The committees that are to deal with the business interests of the community are as follows:

1. Committee on Farm Production.
2. Committee on Marketing.
3. Committee on Securing Farm Supplies.
4. Committee on Farm Finance and Accounting.
5. Committee on Communication and Transportation.

Similarly, the five committees that attend to the community's social interests will deal with:

1. Education.
2. Recreation.
3. Beautification.
4. Household economics.

The work of most of these committees is indicated sufficiently clearly by their titles; for example, the committee on production can do much good by improving the breeds of live stock in a community through cooperative purchases of pure-bred males. It can encourage the formation of corn, poultry, pig, cattle, canning and gardening clubs which have already demonstrated their value in the sections where they have been established, and it can carry on useful studies of the type of agriculture best fitted to local conditions.

In the same way, the committee on marketing can secure the standardization of the community's products and thus obtain better prices than are possible when nondescript goods are dumped upon the market. The committee can also seek out the best markets, make contracts on a large scale which will be more favorable than any individual can secure for himself, and in many other ways economize in the selling of the community's goods. Even if co-operative marketing is not actually resorted to, the information which the committee collects can hardly fail to be of great assistance to the individual shippers.

Just as the committee on marketing can facilitate selling, the committee on farm supplies can economize in buying. Farmers are warned, however not to underestimate the cost of running a store or commercial agency, and not to overestimate the saving which this can effect. The co-operative society, of course, does away with the necessity of the store's making a profit, but somebody must manage the store and that somebody must be paid for his time. His salary, therefore, corresponds in a way to the ordinary store's profit, and it is not always possible to secure a good man for less than he would be able to make in business for himself. There are, however, several methods of purchasing farm supplies co-operatively, which will be found to be of advantage. The simplest is the joint purchase, in which a group of farmers can buy a given article in large quantities, thereby effecting a considerable saving in the expense of handling, commissions, etc. Sometimes when this method is adopted a warehouse is added which is owned or rented co-operatively, and in which the goods are stored until the associated purchasers need them.

If these two methods have been tried and found successful, it may be desirable to carry them out to their logical development and conduct a co-operative store which renders the same service to its customers that a private enterprise would. This, however, inevitably leads to complications and should only be undertaken after some experience with simpler methods of co-operation.

With the committee on farm finance and accounting, the first duty is to ascertain what farm enterprises can safely be financed. This is only possible when accurate accounts are kept and carefully analyzed. After this has been done, the next step is to secure the most favorable terms for financing proper and sound enterprises. This is frequently not difficult, for the committee has thoroughly mastered the subject and is able to put it clearly before local bankers. Where the local bankers are unwilling to finance genuinely productive enterprises at a reasonable rate of interest, the committee must consider other ways of securing capital. One of the simplest plans for accomplishing this is a credit union or co-operative credit association. The essential features of this plan are that a group of farmers organize themselves to receive deposits and make loans. By keeping the expenses down to a minimum, it has been possible in some cases for such associations to pay interest on deposits that is within one per cent of the interest it charges on loans.

The committee on communication and transportation should deal primarily with the roads and telephones. The keynote of the work should be organized self-help, not appeals to get Government help.

Just as the five business committees are to grapple with the fundamental problems of producing and selling in their various forms, the five social committees should direct their efforts to the improvement of living conditions in the country. To increase the farmer's income is not the only thing needed to make rural life what it should be. As a matter of fact, says this article, it is the prosperous farmer who is more inclined to move to town than his less fortunate neighbor. Having accumulated a competence he wishes to enjoy it, and there are five principal reasons which lead him to believe that he can do this better in the city: 1st, there are usually better facilities for educating his children; 2nd, the sanitary conditions are frequently much better in towns; and the time does not seem to be far distant when the cities will be actually more healthful than the country. Again, household conveniences such as hot and cold water, heating and lighting systems, etc., are more abundant in the towns and add greatly to the comfort of living. Finally, there is more opportunity for recreation in the city and frequently, strange as it may appear, more to appeal to the sense of beauty than is inherent in practically every man.

Co-operation on the part of rural communities can do as much to increase these conditions as it can to increase the average cash income. The committees that have these matters in charge should, therefore, be regarded as quite as important as those which deal with business questions, and they should receive the same support from the entire community which they are endeavoring to benefit. The result will be a community spirit which, in its way, is capable of producing as valuable results as the national spirit. In fact, says the article in closing, "Patriotism, like charity, begins at home—that is, in the neighborhood." As an appendix, the pamphlet contains a brief list of suggested readings for the various committees. Many of these are Government publications which may be had free of charge by addressing the Division of Publications of the Department of Agriculture, or at a nominal price from the Superintendent of Public Documents.

NOT EVEN A CURTAIN

At the Players' Club in New York a prompter said of the late Peter Dalley: "He had the sunniest, cheeriest, disposition. Once I toured with him. The accommodations were sometimes rather rough, and on such occasions the true gold in the man showed forth. In a little Southern town the dressing rooms were awful. Everybody swore and raged. But Dalley restored them to good humor. Said he: "Why, this is nothing to what I have been up against at times. I played once in a theater where, at the end of every act the stage manager had to come forward and say: "'I must ask the ladies and gentlemen in the audience to be good enough to turn around. The players are about to change their costumes.'"—Kansas City Journal.

"CARDIFF"

Washington, D. C.—The greatest coal-exporting port in the world, where more business is carried on in a quiet way than in hundreds of cities better advertised and far more in the public eye, Cardiff attained a sudden blaze of fame by reason of its being the center of the strike declared by British coal miners, an action which might have had significant bearing upon the war. The story of this munition growth in the heart of England's richest coal fields is told in a bulletin just issued by the National Geographic Society, which reads:

"For years a great part of the coal that has driven the industrial machinery of Germany, Austria, Holland, France and Russia has been shipped from the Welsh port of Cardiff. That city became the first port in the world for the shipment of coal, and so vast was the quantity of this export that, including the docks at Barry and Penarth as part of the port, it saw the greatest quantities of foreign shipping clear from its docks of any port in the United Kingdom. With the outbreak of the European war, with the loss of practically all of her coal fields by France, and with a growth of a need of coal by Russia and by France greater than ever before for the manufacture of the almost unlimited munitions that the war is consuming, Cardiff has become a place of first strategic importance, a heart-source of energy to the Entente Powers."

"The Welsh port conforms to the best American tradition, in that it has grown from an insignificant village to a center of world importance during two brief generations. In 1831, it had a population of 6,187, and its name was never mentioned outside of Wales. It now has a population of more than 165,000, a tremendous business, a highly developed harbor, equipped with the most modern machinery and port appliances, and among the finest group of public buildings in Great Britain. Its annual shipments of fuel totalled before the war about 8,500,000 tons."

"The growth of Cardiff began when

Great Britain started upon its career of being the factory nation of the world. The port, situated upon the River Taff, a mile above its outflow into the Bristol Channel, lies in the midst of a rich coal and iron country, whose vast deposits have formed an unending stream of livelihood, not only to British industry but to the industries of many other countries. The whole region surrounding the town is honeycombed with coal and iron mines, principally coal mines. These minerals have been mined here for centuries, and were formerly brought down from the hills on the backs of mules and in rudely constructed wagons. With the rise of the star of industrialism, the construction of an up-to-date harbor and of efficient means for transportation, Cardiff came into its own; became big, prosperous, rich, renowned.

"While the export of this port is enormous, it has an inconsiderable import. Its docks receive iron ore, pit-wood, grain, flour and cattle. An industrial region of increasing importance has been growing up around the city. Tin, copper and iron works are established here. There are also large wire factories, general foundries and engineering works. Many of the city's general manufactures are sent to London, which is 146 miles to the west by the Great Western Railway. "Cardiff owes much of its progress to the second marriage of fate, who revealed the importance of this place as an outlet for the great stores of mineral wealth of the surrounding country, and who opened the first great dock here in 1839. The present Lord Bute owns the docks and basins of the harbor proper, five in number and covering 110 acres, while numerous other docks extend down into the Bristol Channel. Despite the city's great development in all directions, the exhaustion or shutting down of its coal mines would rob it of its importance. During the present time the value of its exports to Russia, French and Italian factories can hardly be overestimated."

Princess Marie Jose, the third child of the king and queen of Belgium, born on August 4, 1900, is said to be the prettiest child of all the ruling families of Europe. Shortly after the beginning of the Belgian invasion she was sent to London with her two brothers, Prince Leopold, Duke de Brabant and Prince Charles, Comte de Flandre, and has been there ever since.

DEMOCRATS ATTEST REPUBLICAN EFFICIENCY

Washington.—(Special correspondence)—Democrats are daily attesting the efficiency of Republican policies in developing the resources and industries of the United States. A recent census bulletin showing the growth of the productive interests of the South between 1900 and 1912 gives food for reflection.

The South's capital invested in manufactures increased in twelve years $1,408,866,000 to $3,500,000,000, or 148 per cent. The value of output grew from $1,860,113,000 to $3,900,000,000, or 109 per cent.

The number of cotton spindles increased from 4,467,333 to 11,858,600, the number of looms from 113,106 to 262,000 and the amount of cotton used from 749,915,065 to 1,319,708,000 pounds.

The production of pig iron jumped from 2,642,730 to 3,054,380 tons. The lumber cut increased from 14,444,955,000 to 21,607,519,000 board feet, or by 49 per cent.

The capital invested in agriculture comprising investments in land, buildings, machinery and livestock, grew from $5,262,279,000 to $12,162,000,000, or 129 per cent.

The value of agricultural products increased from $1,564,069,000 to $3,297,000,000, the equivalent of 110 per cent. The value of mineral output jumped 209 per cent.

Railroad mileage increased from 61,880 to 90,330; national bank resources from $705,548,000 to $2,112,717,000 or 199 per cent; national bank capital from $106,504,000 to $242,800,000 or 127 per cent, and deposits in national banks jumped from $234,650,000 to $1,059,068,000 or 216 per cent.

The entire period of this development was under the Republican regime, with a protective tariff in operation. It explains the reason why the South is being weaned away from the free trade notions which nurtured her when she was almost wholly an agricultural section. It also indicates the forces which must have been brought to bear on the Democratic tariff wreckers when the Underwood-Wilson tariff law was being framed, which gave the South all the best of the deal.

Increasing use of the national forests and settlers to supply their needs for timber is shown in the fact that small timber sales on the forests numbered 82,298 in 1914, against 6,182 the previous year.

As a result of an automobile show held in Oporto, Portugal, in which several American cars were exhibited, it is thought that there will be a great demand for American made cars.

If a boy waits until his mother decides he is old enough to be trusted with a gun he will never go hunting.

SIGNS OF DANGER

That Should Be Heeded by Maysville People.

There's serious danger in neglecting any weakness of the kidneys. The warning that Nature gives should not be overlooked. If troubled by too frequent passage of the kidney secretions; burning or scalding; if the secretions are highly colored and contain sediment when left standing—if you have backache, too, with frequent headaches and dizziness, make up your mind that your kidneys are affected and begin using some reliable kidney remedy. Deaths from kidney disease have increased in the United States alone, 72 per cent in the last 20 years. The risk is too great—you can't afford to delay. Maysville people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Can you ask for better proof of merit than the statement of this Maysville resident?

W. F. Lynch, 127 West Third St., Maysville, says: "My kidneys were weak and the passages of the kidney secretions were scanty and painful. Having used Doan's Kidney Pills before, I again got a box and they quickly restored my kidneys to a normal condition."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Lynch had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

SPLENDID EXHIBITION OF NATIONAL PASTIME

Maysville Team Takes Series From
Ironton and Opening Contest
With Frankfort.

At last the local fans can say Maysville has a good ball team. Those who watched the local aggregation take the series from the Ironton Natters and the opening game from Frankfort have branded the present team the best that ever represented Maysville in any league and say that the others will have to fight mighty hard to take the rag from us.

In the first game Saturday the Maysville team should have had the contest, but for the rotten umpiring of Colgate, who has no peer when it comes to seeing them wrong. The hitting of Eupers and Timmins and the fielding of H. Devore featured. The second game was very good until the last few innings when Colgate again pulled a bone by letting the game go on to a quarter of seven, when it was so dark that many fans had to light matches to find their way out of the grandstand. The pitching of Brown of the locals, was the whole show.

Sunday's game was the game of the season, so far. The fast Frankfort lawbreakers were helpless before the slants of Lefty McGraynor, who allowed them only three hits. Kelly, the local shortfielder, pulled some of the most sensational fielding ever seen in this neck of the woods, with H. Devore a close second.

The score of the three games:

WOMAN FALLS WHILE TRYING TO ALIGHT FROM MOVING STREET CAR.

Sunday afternoon shortly after 4 o'clock, Mrs. Emma Lee, of Richmond, Va., who is visiting relatives in this city, endeavored to alight from a street car and in doing so sustained slight injuries. Mrs. Lee had rung the bell for the car to stop at Casto street, but as this is not a regular stop, the car proceeded on to the postoffice stop, which is about 100 feet farther. As the car passed her corner she jumped off and fell, striking her head against the brick pavement and bruising her body considerably.

Dr. Will Robb, of the county, was passing by at the time of the accident and rendered the necessary medical assistance. After an examination he pronounced her injuries very slight.

DANIEL T. SHARP.

Daniel T. Sharp, aged 65, died at his home on East Third street Sunday morning after a short illness. Mr. Sharp at the time of his death, was engaged in the grocery business. He is survived by his wife and nine children, John, Julius and Cleveland, of this city; Carey and William, of Cincinnati; Charles, of Covington; Mrs. Thomas Guy, of Covington; Mrs. Alex Hall, of Cincinnati; and Mrs. Clarence Purdon, of this city. Mr. Sharp was a devout member of the Christian church. The funeral services will be held from the late residence Tuesday afternoon. Interment in the Maysville cemetery.

SERIES OF MISFORTUNES TEMPORARILY TIES UP L. & N.

Monday morning there was a wreck on the L. & N. between Paris and Cynthiana which delayed traffic and the trains were sent to Maysville to cross over to the C. & O., thence into Cincinnati, but the hard luck still pursued and a boxcar was derailed in the C. & O. yards in Maysville which delayed all traffic and the L. & N. was tied up for a few hours in spite of all efforts of the officials to give the patrons of the road uninterrupted service in spite of the delay on their own line.

Mrs. Mary Brannon and Miss Margaret Poolley, of Paris, are the guests of Miss May Linton.

RUGGLES CAMPGROUNDS

Ruggles Campgrounds, July 30.—It becomes our privilege today to record the experiences of two parties bound for the springs. The first party composed of the following campers spent a most delightful day at Escalopia and Glen Springs yesterday: Misses Lena Wells Lykens, Clothia Ashurst, Nova Calvert, Eula Calvert, Bessie Wallingford, Anna Cornish, and Messrs. Hubert Himes, Ralph Keith, Goldsby Farrow and Bruce Markwell. It was a delightful day delightfully spent.

The second party put it off just one day too late. They started at 8:47 this a. m. They would have started earlier if the mules and the hay wagon had gotten to the camp earlier. The mules were late, hence the lateness of the start. Would that the mules and hay wagon had been still later, a different tale might have been told. But the crowd was already having dyked themselves out in hickory hats to prevent "sunburn" again, with baskets full of good dinner, they sallied forth beneath threatening skies. Admiral Webster "Teumseh" White was in command. He carried the spondules to slip in the trip—and they got it all right. When about half way up the side of the mountain one of the hardest rains that ever visited this section began. They had nothing but one little tarpaulin to shelter the party of twenty-eight. Realizing that they were up against it, they all ran down the mountain and got into a country barn. There they took an inventory of themselves, held a council of war, and decided that they would make battle on the dinner baskets, and then return to the camp and do their best to slip in the back way that the rest of the campers could not enjoy the show. Fortunately for them the afternoon service was in progress and only a few campers saw the mud-bedecked bunch slip in. In their predicament one girl lost her bracelet, another her white shoes, and all the crowd's tempers. "Admiral" White now thinks he is not much of a sailor on a rainy day. As we gave the names of the happy party of yesterday we will now proceed to give the names of all who learned to wade and swim down the mountain. They are: "Admiral" and General Manager, W. T. White, Mrs. W. T. White, Mrs. J. H. Richardson, Misses Helen Nash, Carrie, Lillian and Violet Muse, Mary and Grace Morris, Beatrice Moore, Myrtle Wicks, Corrinna Syle, Juanita Richardson, Alma and May Williams, Flo-elo Jones, Bettie Thomas, Nannie May Kelly, Hattie Wood, Mary Willis and Armenia Marshall, Kate Fry, and Messrs. Chas. Williams, George Kelly, Manfred Tolle, Robert Warder, Franklyn Syle and Miss Lotta Mae Ohlinger. After shedding their wet and muddy garments they all vow they had a good time and would "do it again."

The rain that fell in this section this morning was about the hardest that ever fell during a camping meeting. The water ran in a good-sized creek through the tabernacle and the grounds were several inches deep in the water. But it doesn't take the grounds long to dry off. By night everything was in fair shape again. The rain was a great boon to farmers hereabouts, as crops were suffering considerably. Mr. and Mrs. David Davies and little daughter of Fort Thomas, arrived today and will stay over Sunday. Mr. Davies is a noted singer, having several a choir under his training. We are hoping to hear him while here. Misses Nellie Blerly and Bessie Howard, of Carrs, arrived today by the Auto Hamrick and are registered at the Hotel Hamrick for the remainder of the meetings. There has been a big thinning out of the preachers today, returning to their appointments for Sunday. There is some uncertainty about Bishop Wane getting here for Sunday. If he doesn't some we are to be favored with sermons by three of our best preachers, Revs. G. W. Buntin, D. D. E. R. Overley, and W. G. Bradford. This will insure a glorious wind-up of the camping meeting. Misses Susie Shipley and Mary Valentine, of Orangeburg, arrived today and will be guests of Miss Rena Mae Coryell during the remainder of the meetings. On account of the critical illness of her grandson, Mr. John Hook, Mrs. C. C. Degman will leave for her home in the morning. It is with much regret that we lose her services just at this time. Mrs. Degman has put her whole soul into these meetings, especially the women's meetings, and much of the success of this part of the camping meeting is due to her faithful devotion to the work. Rev. J. M. Litteral, of the Third Street M. E. Church, Maysville, preached a fine sermon this morning. It bore a lesson much needed by all, especially parents of children. The closing discussion of the general rules of the church took place this morning and some very helpful and practical views on many widely discussed questions of morality and Christian culture. Rev. E. R. Overley gave us another earnest evangelistic sermon this evening to a large audience. We are all delighted that Bro. Overley is to remain with us until the close of the meetings. No minister is more popular at Ruggles Campmeeting than E. R. Overley. His presence is an inspiration to all.

MARKET STREET SCENE OF BLOODY BATTLE.
Saturday morning about a quarter of twelve, Market street, between Second and Third, was the scene of a bloody battle. Charley Benz, white, of the county, and Charley Cooper, colored, of this city, being the participants. Benz started to "josh" Cooper, he carried the joke too far and Cooper became enraged, hitting him full in the face with his fist. The blow knocked Benz to the sidewalk and in falling he cut his head very severely and was rendered unconscious.

Cooper was placed under arrest by Constable Ben Fleming and taken before Squire Fred W. Dineen, who held him over to the time of court this morning upon his own recognizance. Benz was removed to a hotel, where he lay as dead for some time. The affair will be given an airing in court this morning.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the First Baptist church will meet this evening at 7 o'clock in the Sunday school room. Every member is urged to be present.

Miss Kate Fisher and Miss Flora Wilcox, of this city, who have been in Cincinnati for the past few weeks, returned home Saturday.

FUNERAL OF DAVID A. GLASCOCK LARGELY ATTENDED.

The funeral of David A. Glascock, who was drowned on Thursday evening, was held Sunday morning from the late residence on the Hill City pike at 10 o'clock, and many sorrowful friends were present to pay their last respects to the young man whose untimely death cast a gloom over the entire community.

The services were conducted by Rev. W. P. Harney, of Harrodsburg, Ky., and Rev. H. B. Wilhoite, of the First Baptist church of this city. The High School quartette rendered several beautiful and appropriate selections, each note of which evidenced the emotion they felt over the sad occurrence.

His classmates acted as pallbearers and the large number that attended was a fitting tribute to the high esteem in which the unfortunate young man was held and not one but was as deeply touched as if he had been his own son.

NEW PLAYERS IN.

Manager Josh Devore of the local ball team, has signed Frank Winchell and Winslow Grech, two well known pitchers. These players came to Maysville with reputations of being ball tossers of the first water. They will probably be used in some of the games of the Frankfort series. With this addition to the pitching staff, which has been only fair, the pennant hopes of the Maysville fans will soar.

ASKS FOR DIVORCE.

Saturday afternoon Allie Berry filed papers in the Circuit Clerk's office, asking that he be granted a divorce from his wife, Cora Berry. The petition recites that they were married in February, 1913, and lived as man and wife until June, 1914, when Mrs. Berry left his home without reason. He asks an absolute divorce and that Mrs. Berry's maiden name be restored to her.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to thank the kind friends who assisted us during the illness and death of our beloved baby, Thomas. THOMAS HULL AND WIFE.

Mr. Will Fitch and wife, of Lewisburg, left for Cincinnati this morning to visit relatives.

Mrs. Amanda Hice is visiting relatives in Lexington.

Hon. W. H. Cox is a visitor in Maysville today.

THE FARMERS' CHAUTAUQUA.

The Tri-County Farmers' Chautauqua opened Sunday at the Germantown Fairground with a crowd of about 2,000 people.

The day was perfect. The Sunday school hour was devoted to the regular Sunday school lesson. Mr. Hal Curran was the leader throughout the day and night and right here we want to say Mr. Curran is the man for the place.

The Sunday school lesson was read by Mr. Curran, followed by prayer by Superintendent R. G. Humlong, of the Germantown Christian Sunday school. Superintendent G. H. Frank, of the Maysville Christian Sunday school, gave an excellent exposition of the lesson. T. J. Curry, city president, brought out the fact of personal work. Rev. Davis, pastor of the Baptist church at Two Lick, closed the hour's service with the thought, character and wisdom made Solomon great because God given.

Intermissions of the day were filled by the Germantown band playing appropriate selections for the occasion.

Dr. M. B. Adams, president of the Germantown College, a Baptist institution, preached a great sermon from the text found in I Cor. 1-2. It was an effort worthy of the man and worthy of the place. His thought was man's improvement in the sciences, art, knowledge is great only in the service of Jesus Christ and rendered through Him to His followers.

"Oh, Divine Redeemer" was beautifully sung by Mrs. Harin Lucas, of Chicago, Ill. Mrs. Lucas captivated her audience.

After dinner was a long wait for Judge Barker and Prof. Cherry, who never did come. Mr. Hal Curran and Rev. Mr. Bish, a returned missionary, gave good practical talks upon the practical side of Christianity and government. Judge Barker spoke in a happy vein upon the many sides of farm life and education necessary thereto.

After Judge Barker's address, the benediction was pronounced and the crowd left, feeling the day had been well spent religiously.

If Monday and Tuesday holds up any way near what it should, the first Farmers' Chautauqua will be voted more than a success. Mr. Farmer, if you can not or did not go today, be sure to go tomorrow.

AUTO ACCIDENT

Mr. T. B. Roberson, of Mayslick, Breaks Ankle When Machine Plunges Over Embankment.

Sunday afternoon about 5 o'clock, Mr. T. B. Roberson, of the county, while riding in his machine on the Mt. Carmel pike, east of this city, ran over an embankment and broke his ankle. Mr. Roberson and a party had been at Ruggles Campground for the day and were on their way home. They were driving at a slow rate of speed some distance behind the machine of Mr. R. B. West, when some of the persons in the Roberson car made a movement that the occupants of the West machine thought was a signal to stop and they did so, stopping in a very narrow part of the road near the intersection of the Mt. Carmel and the Orangeburg pikes. Mr. Roberson came up to them and when about even with them, his machine slid over the steep bank on the side of the road, turning over and injuring Mr. Roberson. The other occupants of the car escaped without a bruise. Mr. Roberson was brought to this city where Dr. J. R. Cooper attended him. An examination showed he suffered from a broken ankle. He was later removed to his residence.
